

Youth Bridges Budapest (Hidak Ifjúsági Alapítvány), based in Hungary, is a youth foundation with the aim to support young people dealing with the challenges of the 21st century and to help them spend the early stages of their adult lives actively and productively to build up their successful future and to become active citizens, create value and contribute to social development.

We pay special attention to social diversity and intercultural dialogue for peaceful societies; sustainable lifestyle and environmental awareness; and the future of (digital) learning and educational innovation. We aim to develop transformative competencies through supporting social entrepreneurship, international mobility and volunteerism and organising non-formal education events.

YBB puts a great emphasis on the education of young people and the youth workers' skills development. Our professional background covers adult education management, career counselling, sociology, social and educational policy, youth work and research & development. We are active in learning mobility projects (both supporting and organising), strategic partnerships and volunteerism. The members have worked with the following programs before: Erasmus+ KA1 and KA2, EU Aid Volunteers, GLEN, ESC (former EVS) and Erasmus for Young Entrepreneurs.

All members and collaborators of YBB is committed to sports. We not only do sport ourselves but also encourage youth to move and stay healthy. We consider sport activities as a great opportunity to develop soft skills like cooperation, communication, problem solving and acceptance. Especially for disadvantaged youth sport can be beneficial to find a common language with their peers.
